WRIT APPEAL No. 2070 of 2005

JUDGMENT : (Per Hon'ble Sri Bilal Nazki, ACJ)

The learned Single Judge has dismissed the writ petition of the appellant, in which the petitioner-appellant had asked for a direction to respondents to survey the lands and demarcate his land under Section 10 of the A.P.Survey & Boundaries Act, 1923. The learned Single Judge found that the matter was already pending before the Land Grabbing Court in L.G.C.No.56 of 2002 and the petitioner knew the boundaries of his land and had specifically filed case in Land Grabbing Court, against some of the persons, for eviction. Besides, the learned Single Judge found that there are certain issues raised, which can only be decided after the evidence is taken, therefore, dismissed the writ petition.

We do not find any reason to interfere in the order passed by the learned Single Judge. Appeal is accordingly dismissed. No order as to costs.
